

SLAYS HIS FAMILY AND NONE KNOW WHY

AWFUL CRIME OF A FARMER IN WESTERN IOWA.

Motive Cannot Be Told—John Boecker Kills His Wife and Five Children and Fatally Wounds Another Child and Himself—His Brother Discovers the Tragedy.

Carroll, Iowa, Sept. 28.—John Boecker, aged 44 years, attended services at the church in Breda, Carroll county, Sunday afternoon with his eldest daughter, spent the evening brooding over some financial affairs, although he was a wealthy farmer, as farm wealth goes, and some time in the night shot and killed his wife, his six little children and himself. The slaughter of human beings sums up as follows:

JOHN BOECKER, dying.
MRS. BOECKER, dead.
CAROLINE BOECKER, aged 14, dead.

CHRISTINA BOECKER, aged 9, dead.

HENRY BOECKER, aged 8, dying.
LIZZIE BOECKER, aged 6, dead.
JOHN BOECKER, aged 3, dead.

—BOECKER, infant, dead.

Boecker was to have helped a neighbor thrash Monday morning, and when he did not put in appearance about 9 o'clock his brother Henry, who lives with the old folks about twenty rods away, went to learn the reason. The doors were locked and there were no signs of life. He tried to get in the house, but met no response, and finally kicked in the door.

Boecker, with his wife and boy, slept in a back room, and the three corpses lay on one bed. The wife had been shot in the neck with a shotgun which stood in the corner, the baby had been shot and its head crushed with the butt of a revolver. The man, still breathing, had a bullet hole high up on the forehead, and by his side was a Smith & Wesson six-shooter, two chambers empty.

It is a story and a half frame house, and upstairs Henry, aged 8, and Lizzie, aged 6, lay on a bed with bullet holes in the forehead, the latter dead, the boy still breathing, and in the opposite corner of the same room Caroline, aged 14, Christine, aged 9, and John, 3, were dead, each with a bullet hole in the forehead, though Caroline had two.

It is looked upon as a case of murder and suicide. The indications are that Boecker first dispatched his wife with a shotgun, then used the revolver on the baby, first shooting, then knocking out its brains. He then went upstairs where the five children were sleeping. He must have used a light, for his aim was effective, each victim being shot in the forehead. All but two children met with instant death, for the blood clots were under their heads, and two lay as calmly reposed as if in sleep. All except Henry, who is not yet dead, were attired in night robes.

The murderer had reloaded the weapon while upstairs, and evidently sent the second bullet into the oldest girl's brain just before leaving the room. Going downstairs he stretched himself beside the corpse of his wife and shot himself. His right hand was burned by the powder, showing much use of the revolver.

The revolver was borrowed by Boecker from his brother Henry last Thursday. He said that he wanted it to kill rats in the cellar. It is now recalled that he had since practiced target-shooting with it.

Boecker was 44 years old, and for over twenty years lived in the same neighborhood; in fact, on the same farm. He had been regarded as a prosperous farmer, and only recently bought a 200-acre farm a few miles from the old homestead. Members of his father's family say he had no family troubles, his financial affairs were in good shape, and they can assign no motive for the terrible crime. On the other hand, it is hinted that he and his brother Henry had trouble about the home place, which John was urged to vacate for Henry.

Blaze at Summerfield, Ill.

Yellow Fever Not So Fatal.

New Orleans, Sept. 28.—Warmer weather in the last few days has had the effect of increasing to some extent the number of new cases of the prevailing type of yellow fever, but it has equally had the effect of sending down the death rate. There were twenty-three cases on Saturday, seventeen yesterday, and up to this evening twenty-one cases. But there were only two deaths on Saturday, none on Sunday and two Monday.

London, Sept. 28.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Capetown says it is rumored in Johannesburg that the British South Africa Company has demanded £3,000,000 indemnity from the government of the Transvaal for inciting the natives of Matabeleland to revolt against the company and for supplying them with rifles.

Engineer Mitchell Killed and Fireman Cawley Badly Injured.

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 28.—Engineer E. Hennett Mitchell was killed and Fireman John R. Cawley seriously injured Monday, by the explosion of a locomotive on the Northern Central railway at Georgetown, a few miles north of Harrisburg. The victims were both residents of Harrisburg, and had been in the passenger service of the company for many years.

Mitchell was thrown up the side of a mountain, a distance of sixty feet, and was dead when found. Fireman Cawley was hurled in an opposite direction, almost to the edge of the Susquehanna river. He was so badly scalded that it is thought he will die. The wires and tracks for a distance of 150 yards were badly torn up and telegraphic communication and travel were suspended for several hours.

HELPS LUTGERT'S CASE.

Important Testimony Given on the Witness Stand Monday.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—William Charles Luetgert yesterday was well-nigh a fatal blow to the theory of the state that Mrs. Luetgert was boiled in crude potash in the vat in the basement of her husband's factory. Mr. Charles swore he and Luetgert dumped three barrels of soap grease and bones into the vat the morning of the day Mrs. Luetgert disappeared. He was the business partner of Luetgert in the manufacture of sausage at the big factory.

According to his own testimony Mr. Charles was the innocent cause of the theory of the police and the state's attorneys, for he said he was the one who suggested to Luetgert that soft soap be made in the vat and on that suggestion Luetgert acted.

Arrest the Head of the Order.

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 28.—W. V. Powell, grand chief, and H. B. Perham, grand secretary of the order of Railroad Telegraphers of North America, Monday were taken before United States Commissioner Howe to answer to a charge of violating the alien labor law by employing a Canadian clerk in the grand offices of the order. The action is brought by a former employee in the grand offices, who lost his position when this Canadian was employed. He claims there was an ante-election agreement between the grand officers whereby the Canadian was to receive employment in the offices for services rendered the officers in the campaign. The officers deny this. They say a large percentage of the membership of the brotherhood is in Canada, and that Canada is entitled to some recognition in the headquarters. This is to be made a test case.

Irish Will Be Shadowed.

New York, Sept. 28.—Advises received in Irish circles in this city from London say that the English government has decided upon an extensive system of "shadowing" in connection with the great international pilgrimages to and demonstrations in Ireland next year. It is probably that as in years gone by when the Irish revolutionary movement was rampant, a certain American detective agency will be employed, and with this machinery the British government will know the names of Irishmen intending to take part in the demonstration long before they embark for their old home.

Cavalry to Quiet Indians.

Pocatello, Idaho, Sept. 28.—Two companies of United States cavalry from the Boise barracks are en route for the Fort Hall Indian agency, at Ross Fork, to quell the anti-school riots there. About 100 of the young bucks have determined that the girls shall not go to school, and in this they are backed up by the old squaws, who are also hostile to the idea of having their children placed in school.

Dallzell, manager of the Springfield Coal company, to pay the Springfield scale for company men, $2 a day, and that he would agree to pay the scale for mining to be adopted later by the majority of the northern Illinois operators. It was unanimously rejected.

DONS ARE CORDIAL TO UNCLE SAM'S MAN

WOODFORD'S RELATIONS WITH TETUAN ARE PLEASANT.

Ultimatum Report Denied—Spanish Papers Seem to Be Possessed of Inside History—Statement Soon to Be Issued From the State Department at Washington.

Madrid, Sept. 28.—The United States minister, Gen. Stewart L. Woodford, paid a visit of courtesy Monday to the Spanish premier, Gen. Azacarraga.

Several of the newspapers of this city allege that Gen. Woodford has said, in interviews with their representatives, that the negotiations between the United States and Spain on the subject of Cuba have not begun and that he has only had a preliminary chat with the Spanish minister for foreign affairs. The general is quoted as having added that he found the duke of Tetuan to be a most amiable and able man and that no ultimatum to Spain was delivered, as that country would not put up with it and because the intention of the United States was only to offer its good offices in the most friendly terms.

Secretary Sherman still, according to the interviews in the Spanish newspapers, desires a prompt solution of the Cuban question by November at the latest, as he fears the "jingos" will make themselves heard on the reassembling of congress. Finally, it is alleged that Gen. Woodford has said that in the event of complete accord being established between Spain and the United States the latter will take measures to suppress filibustering.

TO CORRECT REPORTS.

Administration Will Soon Issue an Official Report.

Washington, Sept. 28.—The administration has had under consideration for some time the propriety of making public the text of the letter presented to the duke of Tetuan, the Spanish minister for foreign affairs, by Minister Woodford, in which was outlined this government's view with reference to the Cuban situation. It was proposed to do this because of the incorrect and sensational reports that had been circulated concerning Minister Woodford's representations to the Spanish authorities; but, however, it has been deemed advisable by the president to withhold the letter from the public for the present. It is supposed that Mr. McKinley may have been animated in this decision by the wishes of the Spanish government.

Says the Interview was Friendly.

Havana, Sept. 28.—The Madrid correspondent of La Lucha cables his paper that he has had an interview with the United States minister as to the Cuban situation and that Gen. Woodford described his mission in Spain as "wholly friendly" and for the purpose of offering "the good offices of the United States to re-establish a lasting peace in Cuba."

Spanish Squadron for Cuba.

Berlin, Sept. 28.—A dispatch to the Frankfurter Zeitung from Madrid asserts that a powerful Spanish Squadron will immediately proceed to Cuba on the pretext of attending the installation of the new floating dock at Havana, but really as an answer to the dispatch of the American flotilla to Florida waters.

WAGE SCALE IS UNJUST.

Operators Demand a Change From the Rate Fixed at Springfield.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—Coal operators in northern Illinois claim that the proposed Springfield scale of wages is unjust. At a meeting held here Saturday it was decided to state the case concerning the wage scale from an operator's standpoint. Representatives of the Chicago, Wilmington and Vermilion, Spring Valley, Oglesby, White Breast, Star, Big Four and the LaSalle County Carbon Coal companies were present. It is declared that contracts were based on the spring figures and that the injustice and inconsistency of the proposed Springfield scale are so gross that it has become necessary to show the miners that if the strike is prolonged it will only be a means to divert again the business from the district.

"GIT UP AND GIT" THE ORDER GIVEN

FURTHER LYNCHINGS THREAT- ENED IN INDIANA.

Vigilant Committee Active—Men Suspected of Sympathy With the Victims of the Mob Are Ordered to Leave the City—Grand Jury Will Not Return Indictments.

Osgood, Ind., Sept. 28.—Harry Francisco, Al Willis and Jack Kelley, young men of this city, were yesterday notified by letter received through the mail, signed Vigilant Committee, to leave the city or they would be lynched. The letter also said there were twenty-six other men who would be given a like notice in the near future.

There is little sympathy for the men who were lynched here, and if the grand jury should find an indictment against anyone supposed to have been a member of the mob he would have no trouble in establishing an alibi.

CONVICTIONS IMPOSSIBLE.

Grand Jury Will Not Return Indictments Against Lynchers.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 28.—After several days of impatient waiting the governor Monday night received a letter from the prosecutor of the Ripley county district, apologizing for the delay and saying the grand jury had adjourned without returning indictments against the Versailles lynchings. The prosecutor regretted the result, but expressed no hope that future grand juries would do any better.

The governor thereupon directed the attorney general to conduct such investigation as may be made in the future. The governor declines to intimate what course will be pursued, although he continues fully determined to enforce the law against the mob.

THE JURY'S VERDICT.

Inquest in the Lattimer Shooting—Strong Words as to the Sheriff.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 28.—The coroner's jury which investigated the death of the striking miners at Lattimer met in Deputy Coroner Coeman's office Monday evening and after an hour's deliberation rendered the following verdict:

"That from the circumstances of the case and the evidence offered, the said Clement Placock and others came to their deaths by gunshot wounds on Sept. 10, 1897, at the hands of Sheriff James Martin and his deputies, and in this we the jury do all agree; and we do further say that the said Clement Placock, with others, was marching peaceably and unarmed on the public highway; that they were intercepted by said Sheriff Martin and his deputies and mercilessly shot to death; and we do further find that the killing was unnecessary and could have been avoided without serious injury to either person or property, and we find finally that the killing was wanton and unjustifiable; and we the jury do further say that there was such strong suspicion of unlawful violence at the hands of person or persons unknown to this jury as to make this inquest necessary."

New York Mutual Wins.

Topeka, Kan., Sept. 28.—Judge John F. Williams has granted a perpetual injunction to prevent Superintendent of Insurance Webb McCall from interfering with the business of the New York Mutual Life Insurance company. The attorney general was also enjoined in any other manner except by bringing proceedings in quo warranto. The suit was the result of trouble over the famous Hillmon case. The Mutual Life is one of the companies which, it is claimed, is liable on the Hillmon claims.

Snowstorm Extinguishes Timber Fire.

VICTORY FOR BOSTON.

Her Baseball Team Easily Defeats the Baltimore Men.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 28.—In a great batting and loose-fielding contest and before one of the greatest crowds that ever witnessed a ball game, Boston defeated Baltimore Monday, and again took the lead in the neck-and-neck race for the pennant. The score was 19 to 10. To-day's victory gives Boston a decided advantage in the race, as the Beaneaters have the pennant clinched provided they can take all three games in Brooklyn.

The scenes in and out of Union park before, during and after the game beggars description. The turnstiles and tickets indicate an attendance of exactly 25,375, but the immense mob on the outside broke down one of the entrances an hour or more before the game began, and thousands poured in before a phalanx of police, wielding their sticks with all their might, beat back the mob until the gate could be repaired. An hour before the game there were over 20,000 in the park and thousands went home in despair.

The utmost good feeling prevailed. After the game the Boston team and rooters were given a grand ovation by the Baltimore crowd, and the delegation from the Hub returned the compliment in kind.

Nichols pitched for Boston and was hit hard. Baltimore used four pitchers. Corbett's hand was hurt in the first inning by a hot one from Stahl's bat, and he retired. Jerry Nops succeeded him, and was doing well, considering some very ragged support he received, but Hoffer was substituted in the third. He was hit hard in the third and fourth but was still kept in. He escaped in the fifth and sixth, but in the seventh he was slaughtered, Boston making nine runs on eleven hits for a total of sixteen bases. He was allowed to pitch out that inning and lose the game irretrievably, and was then succeeded by Amole.

Boston would not have scored on Amole at all but for the two errors of Jennings that netted Boston two runs. With anything like decent fielding, and either Corbett, Nops or Amole in the box, Baltimore would have had an easy time winning.

In the first Boston made a run, then Baltimore made two. Then each made three and the score was tied when Boston added another to its string. This far all was well. Baltimore had lost the lead, but not hopelessly. Then the visitors forged to the front with three more tallies. This was bad, indeed, but hope still lived in Baltimore. And so it ran until that dreadful seventh inning.

No one looked for a deluge, as Hoffer had apparently steadied himself and no runs had been made off him in two successive innings. All at once it came. Single followed double, double followed single, player after player crossed the plate, until the crowd grew dazed and wondered if it would ever end. The official scorers almost lost their count. Hoffer became discouraged and wanted to go off and sit down, but Capt. Robinson kept him in the box. Finally the fusillade of hits was ended, Hoffer came down from the air, everybody took a long breath and the scorers figured out that Boston had made nine runs, all of which were earned. That settled it, and although the "champions" made a feeble rally in their half and batted out three runs, following it up with two more in the eighth, their efforts were not of more consequence than are those of men who strive to whistle up the wind. The score:

Boston ..... 1 3 1 3 0 0 9 1—19

Baltimore ..... 2 3 0 0 0 3 2 0—10

Other games: At Pittsburgh—

Chicago ..... 1 0 2 1 0 0 0 0—4

Could Not Solve Blue's Curves.

Toledo, Ohio, Sept. 28.—The Western league champions were unable to solve Long John Blue's curves Monday, and, but for Longford's error in the ninth inning, the score would have been 3 to 1. The fielding on both sides was sharp and aggressive. The score:

Toledo ..... 1 2 0 0 0 0 0—3

Many Illinois Miners Idle.

Carlinville, Ill., Sept. 28.—The strike in Macoupin county is still unsettled. At Girard and Nilwood 175 men are working. Virden, Green Ridge and Carlinville operators have agreed upon satisfactory scales with their employees, but refuse to take them back in a body, having placed some on a black list. At Mount Olive, Staunton and Gillespie, where over 2,000 men have been idle since July 1, there seems no immediate prospect of a satisfactory settlement. The strikers are well supplied with money and provisions.

Waterford, Wis., Sept. 28.—[Special]—Nic Kepper, a well-to-do farmer residing near here, was burned to death in his barn last night. It was only an accident that saved the other members of the family from a like fate. The fire was started by Kepper himself. Some time ago his wife started divorce proceedings, and this preyed upon his mind. Last night he acted strangely, and his eldest son was suspicious. Early this morning Kepper went to the barn and started a fire and then returned to the house with the intention of burning that also, but the son was there and prevented it. Kepper, when he saw what had happened, gave the alarm and went to the barn to get out the horses. Instead of rescuing the animals, however, he plunged into the flames and was roasted alive. Three head of horses and some cows were burned, together with barn and grain. The loss is $4,000. The family had hard work saving the residence.

During the past year, according to the report, 1,063 persons severed their connection with the order by reason of suspensions and delinquent reports, while the losses through death were only 242. Commander Gray says the same conditions have recently become noticeable all over the country.

DR. A. W. BOUCHER IS DEAD

Was Well Known Here and Had Considerable Notoriety.

Word has been received of the death of Dr. A. W. Boucher, which occurred a few days ago in Fostoria, O., from an overdose of laudanum, to the use of which drug he was addicted.
Boucher was well known in Janesville as he visited this city at regular intervals. Several months ago Boucher and a woman who gave her name as Edith Howe were arrested at Madison for keeping a disorderly house. They forfeited their bail bond, going to Freeport, Ill. Later they went to Ohio, where the doctor's death occurred.

Why

Do people buy Hood's Sarsaparilla in preference to any other,—in fact almost to the exclusion of all others?

Because

They know from actual use that Hood's is the best, i. e., it cures when others fail.
Hood's Sarsaparilla is still made under the personal supervision of the educated pharmacists who originated it.

The question of best is just as positively decided in favor of Hood's as the question of comparative sales.

Another thing: Every advertisement

AFTON BAPTISTS ARE TO MEET

Monthly Covenant Session To Be Held Next Saturday.

Afton, Sept. 28.—The regular monthly covenant and business meeting of the Baptist church will be held next Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Beginning next Sunday evening services will begin a half hour earlier. While the attendance was not large at the peach festival given by the Ladies Aid society at the church last Friday evening, yet it was a financial success. While the progress of the famous Luetger trial, at Chicago, has been watched with much interest by Afton people, yet at this writing that case is completely eclipsed by the absorbing attention which is being given to the ailing, in Judge Phelps' court, of the Emerson-Finley fracas, a brief account of which appeared in last week's papers. Both parties are well known here and much interest is manifested over the outcome. Afton was represented at Janesville's market day. Frank Blanchard was down from Janesville Monday, to superintend the erection of a new globe windmill on the James Kilmer homestead. This, in its dazzling whiteness of frame and prominence of location, will form another conspicuous landmark and will add much to the appearance of the estate. Frank H. Oils expects to move onto the place this week, from his present location on the Dunwiddle farm near Janesville, and we are glad to have him come down into our "neck-o'-the-woods." Misses Bertha and Anna Tank returned Saturday from a short visit with relatives in Milwaukee. Gabe Crist and family expect to move from the village this week and will locate near Roscoe, Ill. Mrs. Helen F. Osgood returned home Friday, from a trip to Milwaukee and Chicago. Postmaster Joseph Williams took in the sights in Milwaukee last week, returning home Monday. Henry Buskirk attended to postal affairs during his absence.

A WOMAN'S BODY.

What Its Neglect Leads to. Mrs. Chas. King's Experience.

A woman's body is the repository of the most delicate mechanism in the whole realm of creation, and yet most women will let it get out of order and keep out of order, just as if it were of no consequence. Their backs ache and heads throb and burn; they have wandering pains, now here and now there. They experience extreme lassitude, that don't-care and want-to-be-left-alone feeling, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness and the blues, yet they will go about their work until they can scarcely stand on their poor swollen feet, and do nothing to help themselves.

These are the positive fore-runners of serious womb complications, and unless given immediate attention will result in untold misery, if not death.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will, beyond the question of a doubt, relieve all this trouble before it becomes serious, and it has cured many after their troubles had become chronic.

The Compound should be taken immediately upon the appearance of any of these symptoms above enumerated. It is a vegetable tonic which invigorates and stimulates the entire female organism, and will produce the same beneficial results in the case of any sick woman as it did with Mrs. Chas. King, 1815 Rosewood St., Philadelphia, Pa., whose letter we attach:

"I write these few lines, thanking you for restoring my health. For twelve years I suffered with pains impossible to describe. I had bearing-down feelings, backache, burning sensation in my stomach, chills, headache, and always had black specks before my eyes. I was afraid to stay alone, for I sometimes had four and five fainting spells a day. I had several doctors and tried many patent medicines. Two years ago I was so bad that I had to go to bed and have a trained nurse. Through her I commenced to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I never had anything give me the relief that it has. I have taken eight bottles, and am now enjoying the best of health again. I can truthfully say it has cured me."

GIVES IT SIX WEEKS.

Surgeon-General Whitman Says Only a Hard Frost Will Stop Yellow Fever.
Washington, Sept. 28.—"The yellow fever will probably last six weeks more," Surgeon General Whitman said today. "A hard frost will be required to stop it."

"I am greatly gratified by our present control of it. My men are all experienced, and it is next to impossible to break through the line surrounding the infected district. The fear will probably spread within the infected district, but the number of deaths will diminish. Not only is it impossible for the disease to be brought outside the line by people, but, by the assistance of the postal authorities, I have made it impossible for even the mails to bring it."

Jimmie Michael's Time Beaten.
London, Sept. 28.—At the Crystal Palace Monday J. W. Stocks, the bicyclist, beat the world's records for all distances from six to thirty-three miles. ## BENEATH DEATH'S CLOUD

Mrs. Edwin H. Barker.
Into the peace that cometh to all in time, Mrs. Edwin H. Barker entered at 1:30 o'clock this morning, at her home, 271 Prospect avenue, after a long and painful illness, with consumption.

Mrs. Barker was well known to Janesville people, and the news of her death, though not unexpected, will cause deep sorrow among her many friends. Her maiden name was Miss Nellie M. Loudon, and she was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Loudon. She was born and raised in this city, and was thirty years of age on June 12. Two days before the anniversary of her birth, she was taken ill, and since then her strength has gradually failed. For some days past it had been known that she could not long survive, and death came to her as a relief from sufferings most painful. Beside the afflicted husband, two motherless children are left they being a daughter, Hazel, aged six, and a son, Edwin, aged four years.

Rev. E. H. Perce with the assistance of Rev. W. F. Brown, of Deloit, will conduct funeral services from the residence tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock the interment to be in Oak Hill.

"Janesville will be remembered by us," said Mr. Ringling, "as our banner Wisconsin, that we did the greatest business in this state." Mr. Ringling was accompanied by his wife.

P. ST. JOHN GOES TO WAUPUN

Self Confessed Burglar Pleased with the Prospect of Living in a Cell.

Peter St. John, the self confessed Evansville burglar, who was sentenced to three years in the state's prison at Waupun, waived farewell to the few friends at the Northwestern depot this noon, as he boarded the north bound train in company with Sheriff Achenon. The prisoner was not handcuffed, and to a friend he stated that he never felt easier or more free-of-mind than he this noon, as he waited for the train to convey him to Waupun.

WAS MRS. LUETGERT HERE?

Witness Was Sworn That He Saw Her Near This City

Was Mrs. Luetgert in Janesville after her husband, the sausage maker, is said to have killed her? The Chicago Chronicle of this morning prints a list of witnesses and what they will swear to. In the list is the following paragraph:

"Dr. Opdike, who will testify he saw a woman who resembled Mrs. Luetgert near Janesville, Wis., June 10."

Deep Holes in the Ocean.

The deepest spots so far sounded in the ocean, were found a year or two ago by the surveying ship Penguin, while returning from the Tonga group to New Zealand. In three places a depth exceeding five thousand fathoms was found. Till these soundings were made, the deepest water found was to the northeast of Japan, where, in 1874, the United States steamer Tuscarora obtained a cast of 4,655 fathoms.

The Penguin's soundings are 5,022, 5,147 and 5,155 fathoms. The increase is therefore 500 fathoms, or 3,000 feet. These soundings are separated from one another by water much less deep, and the holes may not be connected. The distance from the two extreme soundings is 450 miles. Specimens of the bottom were recovered from the two deeper soundings, and prove to be the usual red clay found in all the deepest parts of the ocean.

These soundings afford additional evidence of the observed fact that the deepest holes are not in the centers of the oceans, but are near land, as two of them are within one hundred miles of islands of the Kermadec group, and the other not far from a shoal.

Doubtless deeper depressions in the bed of the sea are yet to be found, but the fact, that this sounding of 30,930 feet shows that the ocean contains depressions below the surface greater than the elevation of the highest known mountains is perhaps worthy of record.

Humane.
A Cambridge, Mass., woman, during several very hot days, hired a very small boy with a sponge to stand at a watering trough near her home and wet the heads of all the horses as they came to drink.

The Ruling Spirit.

The story is told of a Yankee housewife who was extremely neat, that she woke one night at the sound of her husband creeping softly out of bed and toward the light stand.

"What's the matter, William?" she whispered.

"Sh!" he whispered; "there's a burglar coming up the front stairs, and I'm getting my revolver."

All was silence again, in the midst of which William crept noiselessly to the head of the stairs. Presently there was a loud report, followed by a mad scurrying of feet; then the husband came back, lighted a lamp and returned to the stairway.

"Oh, William, William, did he—"

"Yes, he got away," said the husband.

"Oh, I don't care so much about that," the woman said, "but, William, did he—"

"Did he what?"

"Did he wipe his feet before he started up the stairs?"

Not Much Danger.

A dash of cold, worldly knowledge falls occasionally like a wet blanket on a gush of warm sentiment, and leaves nothing more to be said. A young man who had gone to the great city to make his fortune had written home to tell of his unexpected success in finding a job.

"I have great hopes of Archie," said the mother, looking over the letter for the fifth or sixth time, "if he only won't fall into expensive habits."

"I don't think he will, Matilda," replied the father. "I don't think he will—on nine dollars a week."

Lost Cabin Mine Found.

With all the other reports of gold strikes in Alaska, California and elsewhere, comes the news of the discovery of the famous Lost Cabin mine, near Sheridan, Wyo. A company has been organized to work it.

Philadelphia has a greater mileage of electric railways than the whole of Germany.

Soldiers' Reunion—Excursion Rates To Monroe.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul R'y. will sell excursion tickets to Monroe, Wis., at a fare and a third for the round trip, Sept. 28th and 29th, good for return until and including Sept. 30th. On account of soldiers' reunion.

ONE IN EVERY FOUR.

One Person in Every Four Suffers From Piles.

About one person in every four suffers from some form of rectal disease. The most common and annoying is itching piles, indicated by warmth, slight moisture and intense uncontrollable itching in the parts affected.

The usual treatment has been some simple ointment, or salve which sometimes give temporary relief, but nothing like a permanent cure can be expected from such superficial treatment.

The only permanent cure for itching piles yet discovered is the Pyramid Pile Cure, not only for itching piles, but for every other form of piles, blind, bleeding or protruding. The first application gives instant relief and the continued use for a short time causes a permanent removal of the tumors or the small parasites which cause the intense itching and discomfort of itching piles.

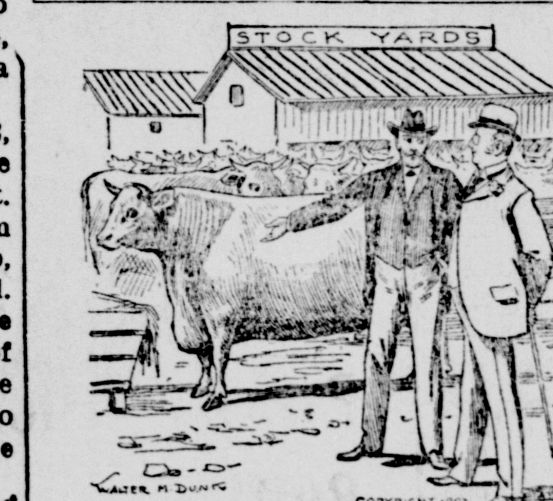

Many physicians for a long time supposed that the remarkable relief afforded by the Pyramid Pile Cure was because it was supposed to contain cocaine, opium or similar drugs, but such is not the case. A recent careful analysis of the remedy showed it to be absolutely free from any cocaine, opium, or in fact any poisonous, injurious drugs whatever. Sold by all druggists at 50 cents per package.

What Kind of an Underwaist to Put On An Active Boy is a Serious Problem...

The "Samson Suspender Waist," Is the Solution....

It is the result of much study and experiment. Physicians and mothers who give serious thought to every detail of children's clothing will appreciate the adjustable waist of the SAMSON. It does not bind the waist but rather clings to it, the weight of the clothing being borne by the shoulders. Every part which is liable to strain is elastic, and responds to each motion of the body, and the buttons in consequence of the elastic construction cannot be pulled off. Its advantages over the fabric waist are obvious. The SAMSON need not be washed; it is not soon outgrown; is stronger in every part than any other Underwaist. It may be worn with either shirt waist or blouse as the buttons are properly placed for the drawers or trousers waist. Eyelets are placed on each side for the stocking supporters. In fact, every contingency has been provided for and every feature studied from a hygienic and scientific standpoint. Made in sizes 3 to 10 years. Be sure and call on us and see this novel little arrangement.

EMERSON-FINLEY CASE NOW ON TRIAL.

Judge Phelps listens to the stories of numerous witnesses — Wixom-Shoemaker Sheep Case Also to be Passed Upon—Alleged Burglars Enter Denials—Other Court News

Considerable interest is evinced in the assault and battery case of the state against James Finley, the trial of which was begun in the municipal court. There was considerable difficulty in finding a jury, there being five venire issued before a panel of six men were secured. They are W. H. Grove, Con. McDonald, Wm. White, John C. Hill, Robert Airis and Peter Howland. Yesterday afternoon the principal witnesses sworn were D. B. Emerson, upon whom it is alleged the assault was committed, and Dr. W. H. Palmer. The latter was the first on the stand and testified to the character of Emerson's injuries. Mr. Emerson testified that he was driving a lot of sheep along the road towards his home below Afton and in passing the farm occupied by James Finley, the defendant, the latter came out into the road, picked a quarrel and assaulted him without provocation. It seems that Mr. Emerson has a contract of sale for the farm on which Mr. Finley lives, having secured it from Mrs. Leavitt, of this city, who became the owner on foreclosure proceedings. Mr. Emerson testified that Finley had on several occasions made threats of bodily harm to Emerson, unless the latter stopped proceedings calculated to secure him possession of the farm.

Why He Took That Road.

On cross examination it was attempted to develop the fact that Emerson, on driving his sheep, went out of his way, and selected a bad road, in order to pass by the farm occupied by Mr. Finley; that the road was sandy, and there were many burrs along the route. Mr. Emerson claimed that he took this particular road because there were several good watering places for his sheep that he was driving. He denied emphatically that he attempted to drive the sheep into the Finley place. A stick carried by Mr. Emerson figured quite prominently in the trial. By the state it was claimed to be the small end of the fish pole, five to six feet long.

During the forenoon the prosecution introduced testimony to show Mr. Emerson's condition after the alleged assault, where he went, what he did for himself, and the defendant's line of conduct, with references to Mr. Emerson before and after the trouble occurred.

To Impeach Mr. Emerson

At noon the prosecution had not examined more than one-third of the witnesses subpoenaed by them. The case will last all day, and undoubtedly into tomorrow.

At 3:30 o'clock the prosecution had finished, and the defense opened the case. The defense claims that Emerson sought to drive his sheep into Finley's yard, that Finley, who was crossing the road on an errand, intercepted them, and kicked one of the sheep. Emerson, it is claimed, then struck Finley with a club, knocking him down on his knees, and the fight followed. The defense called witnesses to impeach the testimony of Mr. Emerson, after the opening.

Sheep Case to Be Heard

The celebrated "Wixom-Shoemaker sheep case" has been called up again, and Oct. 4 is the date fixed for trial in the municipal court. This action grew out of the alleged killing of certain of C. B. Wixom's sheep, by C. B. Shoemaker's dog, away back in 1895. The scene of alleged slaughter was not far from Barkers Corners, on the Indian Ford road. The case was tried in a justice court and appealed to the municipal court where it was tried twice before a jury, a disagreement resulting in each instance. The matter slumbered until recently when it was called up. George H. Metcalf is the plaintiff's attorney. There are a great number of witnesses, and the costs of the action involved are many times value of the sheep and dogs implicated.

Hunt and King in Court.

Frank Hunt and Edward King were brought before the municipal court to plead to an information filed against them by District Attorney William A. Jackson, charging them with burglarizing a C. M. & St. P. railway car at Milton on the 24th day of July last. This is the same burglary with which John Arquette is charged with being connected. It will be remembered that Arquette testified against Hunt and King when they had their examination a few weeks ago. The prisoners pleaded not guilty and their trial was set for October 7 at 10 o'clock. John H. Groesbeck was appointed attorney by the court to defend the prisoners upon their affidavit that they had no means with which to employ an attorney.

Hammes Jury Is Drawn.

The jury in the Henry Hammes horse stealing case was drawn in the municipal court this morning. It is returnable at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, which is the time set for the trial.

THE WORK IS BEGUN AT THE DEPOT SITE

THE "OLD RUIN" IS BEING REMOVED.

E. T. Fish and His Men Began Twisting Up the Jackscrews This Morning—Excavations to Begin on Thursday—To Run a Sewer to the River.

The work of preparing for the erection of the new C. & N. W. depot was begun this morning when Eugene T. Fish and fifteen men, with three wagon loads of tackle took possession of the old building at 7 o'clock. By noon had the "ruin" "jacked up" several feet in the air.

This was the first move made toward giving Janesville one of the best passenger stations in the state. About one hundred interested citizens looked on as the first jackscrew was placed in position. In this crowd was one man who seemed to be unusually interested. His movements were quick and business like, and he was everywhere at once. This man was T. A. Lawson, superintendent of this division of the road. Superintendent Lawson came to Janesville to oversee the first steps taken and to give directions for future work.

Mr. Fish expects to have the old depot moved to its temporary resting place by tomorrow evening so that the work of excavating may begin on Thursday morning.

The plumbing contract for the new depot has been let to McVicar Bros. of this city.

To Build a Sewer

Assistant Civil Engineer F. F. Heck and his assistants, commenced this morning surveying for the new sewer that the company will lay from the depot to the river. Several plans are being considered, one of them being to run a ten inch tile sewer from the depot down Wall street to High, and then south on High to Dodge street, where it would connect with the High school sewer that runs down Pleasant street to the river.

This plan would require about 1800 feet of tiling. The job will be let to the lowest bidder and the work is to be completed this fall.

The council will take some action relating to the proposed sewer at tonight's meeting.

The Janesville Coal Company will seek new quarters, as the land now used by that firm will be occupied by the C. & N. W. Company in the future.

W. C. MITCHELL GETS PLACE

The Stevens Point Daily Journal says: W. O. Lamoreux has resigned the management of the Stevens Point Water company, his successor, W. C. Mitchell, arriving here from Janesville this morning. Mr. Lamoreux will remain with the company another month or until the new superintendent has thoroughly familiarized himself with his position. He will remain in charge of the plant temporarily. Mr. Mitchell, incoming manager and superintendent, held a similar position at Janesville for several years and is, therefore, an experienced water man and will do his utmost to promote the interests of his company and at the same time to maintain cordial relations with its patrons. As soon as the necessary arrangements can be made Mr. Mitchell will move his family to Stevens Point.

LOCAL FACTORY LIKELY TO GROW.

Richardson Norcross Co. Negotiate With Chicago Parties and Mr. Norcross May Retire—If Deal Goes Through $50,000 Capital Will be Added—Bankers Visit Janesville

Negotiations are pending for the sale of the Richardson-Norcross shoe factory, and in case the deal is closed Captain Piny Norcross will retire from the business.

The sale involves about $25,000 and will mean a re-organization of the company with Alex. Richardson of this city and Chicago parties as exclusive owners.

The sale of this factory will be for the good of the city, for the intention is to add $50,000 capital and to enlarge the factory.

Joseph Fleishem, a director, and M. S. Harmon, cashier of the Lumuer-men's National bank at Menominee, Mich., arrived in the city on the 10:40 train last evening, and were at once driven to the Grand Hotel. Early this morning both gentlemen met Mr. Richardson by appointment and were shown through the local factory, where they spent considerable time. The object of their visit is to make a thorough examination into the affairs of the local concern and then make a report to a well known Chicago capitalist who is anxious to purchase Captain Norcross interest.

Will Report First.

"There will be nothing definite done for the present, or at least not until we make our report in Chicago," said Mr. Fleishem this morning; "but as long as you newspaper men have caught on, I suppose you ought to know the real facts in the case."

"Cashier Harmon and myself are here only in the interest of a Chicago capitalist who is also a director in the 'Menominee bank,' continued Mr. Fleishem. "He is a man who has plenty of money, and would not have one to the expense of sending us here to make this investigation had he not meant business."

Mr. Fleishem and Mr. Harmon left on the noon train for their Michigan home and the result of their investigation will not be known for several days. It is said, however, that the deal is very likely to be made.

AUTUMN ON WIND RIVER.

The black pines stand high up the hills,
The white snow sifts their columns deep,
While through the canyon's riven cleft
From there beyond the rose clouds sweep.

Beneath their pining shapes
One star hath wakened in the sky,
And here in the gray world below
Over the sage the wind blows by.

Rides through the cottonwoods' ghost ranks
And hums aloft a sturdy tune
Among the river's tawny bluffs,
Untenanted as is the moon.

Far 'neath the huge invading dusk
Comes silence awful through the plain,
But yonder horseman's heart is gay,
—And he goes singing, might and main.
—Owen Wister in Harper's Magazine.

BILL'S LITTLE GAL.

Being a man with a wide circle of acquaintances, I purposely avoid accuracy as to dates and localities. It is not even necessary to explain how I became associated with General Surly in the management of a big cattle ranch. He was one of the southern gentlemen whose earthly possessions were pretty well wiped out by the war, but he did not stop to chide fate nor wait for something to turn up. He converted his available assets into cash and made the investment in which I was eventually interested.

Of course the general had a beautiful daughter, or I would have nothing worth the telling. I avoid going into rhapsodies by simply saying that she grew to be a strong, stately and graceful woman whose physical attractions were matured in the outdoor world, whose education and accomplishments were those that few women have the mental grasp to acquire and whose heart was as tender as when her little girlish voice was raised in angry protest against placing the cruel brand upon some bleating maverick. I'll not betray by how many years I was her senior, but I fell in love with her the first time I saw her, a little vision of beauty astride a burro, riding wildly and without fear, swinging a miniature lasso, her black eyes aglow and her raven hair streaming in waves that even the sweeping wind of the prairie did not straighten.

Though she was a gentle little mistress, every one about the place was her slave. Even stoical old Bud Whipple, who should have lost every vestige of romance in his experience as trapper, scout, Indian fighter and cattle man, had secretly adopted the little witch in his heart, which had come warm and true through all these experiences. Like many a man who led the rough life of the frontier, he idealized a good woman, and the adoration bestowed by him upon Kitty Surly was as devoid of our earthly conception of love as though she had been an angel.

It was after she had been east to school and returned to us with all her natural beauty enhanced by the refining influences and opportunities she had enjoyed that old Bud came to me. "I don't like the way that coyote from the Robella ranch is a-tryin' to git inter the round up over here," he began. "Jim Bumper's no sorter feller fur such a woman as our Kitty. I never heerd yet where he wipped out a feller critter what he didn't take unbeknownst or to a disadvantage. He's made big money, but he ain't square, an' he'd make it hell on a fourth fur a woman. He's makin' a strong play fur to git on the good side of the general, an' I've 'bout made up my mind that I orter to tend to slippin' Jim's cinch. Takin' chances with critters like him is the same as takin' chances with rattlesnakes. Jist say the word, an' I'll make Jim Bumper git out o' here or fight, an' he won't fight me fur certain reasons as is private till I git ready to turn loose. I reckon he's feelin' kinder panicky already, fur I give it out all an' singular to the boys over to the ranch that our Kitty won't agoin to graze her pritty face on no range 'ceptin our own an' that any feller what tried ropin' in her wouldn't never know jist how it happened he was disapp'inted. I don't of'en cut loose, but there hain't none o' the boys is hankerin' partickular to be round when I blow up."

I could see that the veteran was in deadly earnest, for his parchmentlike face had an unwonted glow of color, and in his deep set gray eyes there was a glint as ominous as a death warrant.

"See here, Bud," I said in a conciliatory tone. "There are some things about this case that I understand better than you do. I'm as determined as any man living that Jim Bumper shan't have Kitty Surly. I happen to know that she loves another man who would try to be worthy of her and who would marry her if the general can ever be convinced that a big fortune is not essential to her happiness. Jim's immense wealth, got nobody knows how, dazzles the general for a time, but he will never ask Kitty to marry against her will, and I can see that Jim is losing ground every day in the general's esteem. It is all right to let matters take their course, and nothing must be done that will make her talked about."

But old Bud did not belong to the class of men who are content to drift. The necessity of his life had been to plan, plot and anticipate the movements of the enemy. But he said nothing, and I accepted the matter as at an end for the time.

It was a month before we were startled by a very unexpected occurrence. Bud rushed into the room where the general and I were transacting some business to announce that Jim Bumper had kidnapped Kitty and was following the old trail to the nearest large city. No time was lost in lamentations or inquiry. With a rush for arms and horses we were in the chase. For hours Bud staid right with us on his dilapidated broncho that he always said had done nothing more than switch its abbreviated tail when struck by lightning some 15 years before. Though Jim had one of the best mounts in the whole territory the extra weight began to tell, and a little after midnight we had our quarry in sight. The general was a dead shot. Bud never missed unless he wanted to, and I had a craving for vengeance that was only aggravated by a gentler passion.

What happened in the next few minutes can only be explained by the story which Bud afterward told with a series of chuckles and an occasional winking laugh that seemed to expand most of his force internally.

"I knowed all the time," he declared, "that Jim Bumper wouldn't play no square game when the stakes was so high, so I c'lected fur to take him myself. I went over an' secured a pipe an' had a council of war with Bill Planters. Me an' Bill were pardners. He has a mighty fine partner, an' Jim had been smittin' round for lettin on she was 'bout the kind o' what he was lookin' fur. When I told him how things was shakin' up in the ranch, I had to fairly put him in a him fur to keep him from gettin' over a spongin' Jim off the ranch. I was mad, chin deep, but I showed him a fist full o' trumps."

"The upshot was we makes a lat call on Hank Yummers. Both me an' Bill has saved Hank's scalp numerous times, an' he'd try fur to stan off sartin himself if we'd intermeddle we wanted it. Nex' day Hank hires out to Jim Bumper, an' it hain't long till them two is thicker than two brothers. Hank never mentions no gal by name, but he allus says she was the sweetest critter what ever picked posies from the parary, an' why didn't Jim jist rope her on the sly, run her off an' marry her. A game man could do it, an' there'd be no trouble squarin' up with the ole man arterward."

"Jim gits up his sand an' agrees, Hank guarantee to give the gal some sleepin' medicine an' have her in a hammock back o' the gin'ral's house, but there mus' be no brace game. Jim mus' marry the gal soon's he could git to a parson, or a squire, or he must settle with Hank. If he done square, Hank would stan by him 'gainst a whole army o' rustlers, if it kin to that kind o' a show down."

"When this 'greement was all made, Hank gallops over an' tells me an' Bill, an' we tells him fur to go ahead an' have Jim run off the prize. One o' us would be at the round up."

When the pursuing party came within easy range of Jim Bumper, we saw there were two horsemen instead of one. When the general's voice rang out a "Halt!" one of the men faced his horse toward us and threw up his hands. Jim swung himself in the saddle, laid the girl tenderly by the side of the trail and struck the spurs into his panting horse. The general fired, but Jim plunged ahead. I took careful aim and pulled, but a shout of defiance from Jim was the only result, for we were using blank cartridges without knowing it. Then old Bud's long rifle gave forth its whiplike report, and the retreating horse went down, while his rider pitched headlong to the ground. It was with the greatest difficulty that we prevented the general from doing some more shooting, especially when he discovered that Jim's companion was Hank, whom the general had done many a favor.

"Durn me, if this hain't Bill Planters' gal!" shouted Bud as he knelt by the side of the trail.

"Course it is," snorted Hank. "That's her, an' they won't be none of you gents walkin' round tomorror what says it hain't her. Jim Bumper wanted her fur his wife, an' she wanted him, an' I 'greed to see 'em through. When I gins my word, there hain't nothin' less 'n a bullet goin' to make me out a liar. There's goin' fur to be a wedding or a few 'ristocratic funerals."

When Jim discovered that he had really carried off the wrong woman, he began to bluster, swear and deny, but when he felt Hanks' gun at one ear and old Bud's at the other, while the latter told that "me nor Hank won't see no shame put 'pon a darter o' Bill Planters, as has allus been our pard," he wilted, went meekly back with us and sat down to breakfast a married man. And a charming little wife she was Miss Planters made him. Indeed, as old Bud put it, "she jist coaxed all that sneakin' meanness out o' Jim an' made him 'bout as decent a critter as you gen'rally see in double harness."

When Kitty and I were married, Mr. and Mrs. Jim were both at the wedding, and for the first time since the "kidnaping" he had a talk with Bud. "Old fellow," he said, "you rung in a cold deck on me, but I was a winner arter all and there's no grudge. I git even with big Bill by calling him grandpa now, and Hank don't find time to do much but roll around with the baby."—Detroit Free Press.

The Value of Relics.

We do not believe that by worshipping relics we attain Nirvana, obtain any remission of our sins or gain even merely any worldly benefit. These advantages are effected only by persevering in the path of virtue.

An example: During a season of drought even the foul water is taken for drinking purposes after purifying the same. The purification is effected by removing the mud and filth from the water and putting a kind of gem (osaka-prasada) into the water. The gem will not cleanse the water if it has not been first separated from the filth. In order to purify our heart it must be first freed from sinful thoughts.

Again, as a fan helps us to feel the refreshing breeze and a musical instrument to feed our ears with melodious sounds, so the relics, be they of Buddha or of his holy disciples, give us courage in our attempt to alleviate our misery. The mere keeping of the fan without fanning or the musical instrument without playing will give us neither the breeze nor the music.—Rev. Seelakhandan in Outlook.

SURPRISE FOR THE OLD MAN.

The Punching Bag Elasticity Was Wholly Unexpected.

One of those big, hardy men who got into the pine woods early, endured the hardships of a pioneer, finally made a fortune and then came to Detroit as one of the favored spots on earth in which to live, has a young son who aspires to athletic honors and has a big room in the barn equipped as a gymnasium, says the Detroit Free Press. The old gentleman was a powerful man in his day and had to deal with refractory woodsmen who yielded to nothing but muscular suasion. It is difficult for a person like him to realize that age draws on strength and activity.

One afternoon last week the father went by special invitation to see the gymnasium. The first thing to attract his attention was a punching bag, one of those arrangements that comes back when you hit it, and comes back harder the harder you hit it. When its uses were explained to the old giant of the woods, he promptly announced that he'd either "bust the thing or knock it through the ceiling."

Drawing back as if to fell an ox, the father let go, and there was a thud as though a trolley car had collided with an elephant. Before the air had ceased to quiver there was a quick, but subdued puff. The bag had come back, driving the puncher's cigar half way down his throat, filling his whiskers with hot ashes and starting the blood from his prominent nose. With such a whoop as used to waken the echoes of the north woods the old gentleman went at the bag. And the bag stayed right with him. It was literally give and take, the maddened puncher tearing around as if he were fighting bees and throwing a ton into every punch. The coachman and the stable boy had to be called up to help part the old man and the punching bag. Then the sea had to hide the shotgun, for the puffing, used-up father vowed all kinds of vows that he would get even with that "automatic slugger."

A Singular Barometer. A curious barometer is said to be used by the remnant of the Araucanian race, which inhabits the southernmost part of Chile. It consists of the cast-off shell of a crab. The dead shell is white in fair, dry weather; but, indicating the approach of a moist atmosphere by the appearance of small red spots; as the moisture in the air increases it becomes entirely red, and remains so throughout the rainy season.

How to Restore Stained Bricks and Enamel Furniture.

In many modern houses the hearths are made of brick, and the bricks of the chimney are likewise left to show. These bricks sometimes become discolored by dust and other means of deterioration—notably washing with soap and water, something that should never be done to bricks if they are to retain their attractiveness of appearance. When bricks are thus discolored, whitened or dulled in any way, they may be restored to more than their pristine freshness of color by painting them with boiled oil in which has been thoroughly stirred powdered venetian red such as may be obtained at any painters' supply store. Ten cents' worth of venetian red is amply sufficient for a pint of boiled oil.

Of course venetian red is only suitable for red bricks. Cream bricks may be treated with naves yellow instead of red and brown bricks with burnt sienna. Painters' supply stores—not art stores, but those establishments which supply house painters and interior decorators with the necessities of their trade—have pigments of all kinds in the form of powder, in which form they may be mixed with either oil or water, as occasion demands. Wall paper designers combine these powdered colors with gum or size and water for printing their designs or for fresco work, while painters mix them with an oily medium. Unprofessionals are often unaware of such simple secrets of repair and rejuvenation and hire tradesmen to do work which might equally well be done by amateur hands.

The illustration given today shows a costume of dull red cloth. The skirt is ornamented around the hips by bias bands of black velvet. The close bodice is similarly trimmed with black velvet bands which in part give a corselet effect, while they are carried around to the back and up to the neck in a point. The upper part of the bodice is cut to form a bolero, decorated with black velvet bands, and the chemise is of yellow satin. The close sleeves, slightly full at the top, have epaulets which form coquilles and are trimmed with black velvet bands.

WINTER NOTES.

Subdued Colors—Decorative Buttons. Trimming For Skirt Bottoms.

Cloth of various colors will be very much worn this winter. Effective contrasts will be obtained by means of velvet and embroidered satin, which will be utilized as trimming. Gray and other subdued tints, while enjoying a fair share of attention, will yet not militate against the employment of colors by means of which elegant and artistic results are to be obtained. Cloth in green, violet, mauve, bluish gray, changeable pink and gray or white, trimmed with darker velvet, valuable ornamental buttons and applications of embroidery or old point enriched with gold or silver, composes exquisite toilets of great elaboration and expense.

Buttons are still much used for decoration, but are not as immense as heretofore, the largest being seldom more than 1½ inches in diameter. From this size they run down to very small ones and include all styles of material and workmanship. Some are entirely composed of metal filigree, others are studded with jewels, still others are made of cut steel. There are enameled and painted buttons, buttons of plain or frosted gold or silver, buttons of pearl, horn and composition, and these are all employed for ornament as well as for use.

With the diminishment of sleeves, jackets have resumed all their former favor, and although capes are still fashionable they do not prevail as they formerly did, when enormously bouffant sleeves made them a necessity. Jackets are often very much decorated, now that flat ornamentation is again used, and many models are decidedly elaborate.

The picture given today shows a jacket of mauve gray cloth, fitting closely at the back, but rather loose in front. It is trimmed with black braid, fastened by tiny steel buttons. Lines of braid follow the seams. The back, the lower edge and the revers are embroidered with black and gold. The collar is of black velvet.

How to Devour the New Cake Without Detection.

"Oh, those boys of mine!" sighed a handsome matron on Cass avenue, says the Detroit Free Press. "I don't believe that a detachment of police could keep them within bounds. Their papa says they are little terrors, and I guess he should know." "Yes," suggested an outspoken neighbor, "and he might be able, by a little introspection, to discover the original source of their mischievousness. Frank used to keep things pretty thoroughly stirred up himself."

"But these boys of mine are right from one thing into another as fast as they can go. It sets me wild. Why, we had company for dinner this evening, and when I went to look for the beautiful layer cake I had baked with my own hands so as to have it nice, there wasn't a crumb of it to be found. Nothing could be more annoying."

"That recalls an experience of Frank and mine. We had been raiding the larders in both of our houses till final notice was issued that we must either reform or take the consequences. One evening there was to be some fine company at Frank's and he managed to get me an invitation. During the afternoon we discovered the cake and it was a daisy, all sugared over with white and surmounted by a piece of statuary work of the same material. We simply couldn't resist, but we sought to cast suspicion on the baker, by carefully digging out the interior through a small hole we made in the bottom. It took slow, careful work, but we had our reward as we went along."

"On the table that shell looked like a magnificent cake. We boys looked as solemn as owls through grace and all the courtesies, till it came to desert. Then we fidgeted as his father took the long, thin knife, complimented his wife on her taste and then made a cut. The steel went through and struck the plate with a sharp sound, the hollow cake collapsed, Frank still looked solemn, and I took to my heels. The settlement was with a rawhide."

"Frank will have to raise the boys," mused the wife. "I'll be responsible for the girls only."

RELATING TO HEALTH.

If dyspeptics would take the precaution of resting before meals it would materially aid their digestive powers. Daily naps are good for persons who are troubled by the American disease, dyspepsia. Sleep is food for the nerves; early hours should be observed and the whole system invigorated if recovery is wished.

Fewer limbs are amputated nowadays than ten years ago. Such is the verdict of one of London's largest hospitals. While surgical operations have increased 50 per cent they have become more conservative and science now devotes itself to the saving of limbs which ten years ago there would have been no option but to cut off. At the same time mortality has decreased owing to improved methods of nursing and better sanitation. Only 2 per cent of the operations today are amputations.

In view of the many changes which have been rung in the early-to-bed, early-to-rise idea the following opinion from an eminent medical authority ought to be of interest. He takes up the old statement that an hour before midnight is worth two hours after, and gives his opinion as follows: "I had an opportunity to make some study of this subject in my naval service during the late war. On shipboard the ship's company—officers and men alike—stand four-hour watches day and night, and to get the required amount of rest are obliged to get their sleep irregularly; to so arrange it that the same man shall not be obliged to take early or late watches continually, the 'dog-watch' of two hours is interpolated, thus adding to the irregularity. In watching the results for over two years I could never discover that the watch, officers and men, were not as fully refreshed by their sleep as were the medical and pay officers, who stand no watch and have hours as regular as those of any household." It seems to make but little difference to those who have given careful attention to this subject whether people sleep at one time or another, so that they get a sufficient amount of sleep.

Not Much Influence.

As Senator Stewart, the patriarchal silver orator and bicycle rider, was one day passing through one of the small parks of Washington he met a lady who is engaged in performing heroic work for the independence of Cuba. In the course of a brief conversation the lady asked the senator if he did not think President McKinley would soon do something toward terminating the rebellion. Receiving a negative reply, she expressed considerable surprise and said:

"Why, it looks to me as if this administration should take some action! Everybody has expected great things from Mr. McKinley in the direction of freeing Cuba. You do not mean to tell me that he has lost all interest in the matter?"

"No," said the senator, "it is not that. But, mortifying as the confession is, the truth must be told. As a matter of plain fact Mr. McKinley has but very little influence with the present administration, and hence there is no likelihood of anything definite and beneficial being done for Cuba."

Broad chins signify nobleness and large dignity, unless vertically thin, when if thin, bloodless lips go with them you will find emaciation.

Flying Over the Snows of Northern Canada in Rubber Skins.

Well, here we are down on the ice, and the dogs impatient to start. Let us describe. The sled consists of a narrow box four feet long, the front half being covered or boxed in mounted on a floor eight feet long resting on runners. In this box the passenger sits, wrapped in rabbit skins so that he can hardly move, his head and shoulders only projecting. In front and behind and on top of the box is placed all the luggage, covered with canvass, and securely lashed, to withstand all the jolting and possible upsets, and our snowshoes within easy reach. An important item is the dog-whip, terrible to the dog if used by a skillful hand and terrible to the user if he be a novice; for he is sure to half-strangle himself or hurt his own face with the business end of the lash. The whip I measured had a handle nine inches long and lash thirty feet, and weighed four pounds. The lash was of folded and plaited seal-hide, and for five feet from the handle measured five inches round, then for fourteen feet it gradually tapered off, ending in a single thong half an inch thick and eleven feet long. Wonderful the dexterity with which a driver can pick out a dog with this lash. The lash must be trailing at full length behind, when a jerk and turn of the wrist causes it to fly forward, the thick part first, and the tapering and continuing the motion until it is at full length in front, and the lash making the fur fly from the victim. But often it is made to crack over the heads of the dogs as a warning. The eleven dogs were harnessed to the front of the sled, each by a separate thong of seal-hide, all of different lengths, fastened to a light canvas harness. The nearest dog was about fifteen feet from the sled, and the leader, with bells on her, about fifty feet, the thongs thus increasing in length by about three feet. When the thong is good the dogs spread out like the fingers of a hand, but when the snow is deep they fall into each other's tracks in almost single file. As they continually cross and recross each other, the thongs get gradually plaited almost up to the rearmost dog, when a halt is called, the dogs are made to lie down, and the driver carefully disentangles them, taking care that no dog gets away meanwhile. They are guided by the voice, using "Husky," that is Eskimo, words "Owk," go to the right; "arrah," to the left, and "hoit," straight on. But often one of the men must run ahead on snowshoes for the dogs to follow him.—London (Ont.) Times.

Bed wetting is rarely the fault of children. They can't help it, because of the weakness that causes it, and they are too young to exercise the will-power of a grown person to arise out of sleep when troubled with irritable bladder or weak kidneys.

ELASTIC STARCH has been before the people of the United States for twenty-three years and is without doubt the greatest starch invention of the Nineteenth Century. Last year it sales reached the unprecedented number of twenty million packages. It is prepared upon scientific principles by men who have lived for years of experience in laundry making. It makes ironing easy, restores old stained dresses to their original whiteness, and imparts to linen a beautiful and lasting finish. It is the only starch manufactured that is perfectly harmless, containing neither arsenic, alum, or any other substance injurious to health, and can be used even as a baby powder.

Cool Weather Will Soon Be Here;

You'll Need New Fall Underwear.....

Therefore we think you'll be interested in what we have to say about our Underwear stock. First of all we'll tell you that, although the new tariff bill will make certain grades of Underwear much higher our prices for the coming season will not be advanced. We placed our orders early and obtained the fall stock at prices much lower than we could buy the goods for now. You can share the benefit.

For Men

We have just opened a case of that popular article, the "Buckskin" Underwear, and from its name you might infer that it's too heavy for your needs; but not so; on the contrary it's a medium heavy weight, it is all wool, has no burrs, and is made for first-class trade. No matter how sensitive a man is to wool garments he can wear these with comfort. Shirts are sizes 34 to 44; Drawers, 32 to 44. Price, per garment, $1.00, and worth it.

The "Kalamazoo" Skirt...

We have the sale of them for Janesville and there is nothing made in this country to equal them for service. Made particularly well of an extra heavy fabric; they are especially suited for wear with heavy dresses. Prices $1.25 to $3.00.

Priestley's Black Goods...

Standard of the world and known by the varnished board upon which they are rolled. A special purchase of ten pieces at very much under price enables us to offer them at nearly half value. Width is 42 inches and there are several different designs and figures. Per yard, 50c.

SILK WAISTS—Ours are nobby. COLLARETTES—Ours are reasonable. COATS AND CAPES—Ours are selling. Drop in and look through

A Little More Cost Brings Big Profits.

The addressing, folding, inclosing, sealing and stamping of five thousand circulars, with postage, will cost at least $65, whether the circular is good or bad. Notwithstanding this fixed charge, some strive to save a dollar or two on the cost of printing, although the goods advertised are to be judged by the character of the printing, just as a house is judged by the character of its salesmen. Good printing costs but little more, and that "little more" brings greater returns than any other part of the cost. Order your printing where good work is assured.

Remarkable Progress of a New Store.

THE LEADER is enjoying an immense trade, which, considering the comparatively short time it has been in business, is remarkable. There are plenty of good reasons why it should have a large majority of the economical buyers as its customers. First--THE LEADER carries the stock that has not its equal in Southern Wisconsin for variety or quality. Second--Its prices on goods of every description are lower by half than than any other dealer's in this section of the country. THE LEADER discounts every bill and secures the very lowest figures obtainable on all commodities, and it sells articles for what other stores pay for them. Third--THE LEADER has a business principle that wins friends for it with each transaction no matter how small it may be; it treats everybody alike, does not take advantage of anyone, does not make one price to one person and another to the next. A child can get the same courteous treatment in its one-cent purchases as the older person with his $25 or $50 investments. THE LEADER is a department store; it sells everything and anything that is of use to the human family; its stock is increasing every day, new lines are being added constantly, and every new idea that can be thought of in connection with THE LEADER'S popularity with the public is being acted upon. Our store is always crowded; you wonder why? If you have a purchase to make and come to us for it you won't remain puzzled long. A guaranteed saving of 25 to 50 per cent. on all lines; its low prices and reliable goods make lively purchasing.

EVERYTHING THAT IS MADE IN

Tinware, Graniteware, Agateware, Hollow-Ware, Steelware, Kitchen Utensils, Hardware, Willow-Ware, Woodenware, Etc.,

We sell at half the price of other dealers. Our CROCKERY and GLASSWARE department is worthy of especial notice. We import direct from England and France the daintiest goods imaginable--the prettiest pieces and sets of dishes, and at the lowest prices Janesville ever saw. You can buy Jewelry, Watches, Cutlery, Carving Sets, Toilet Articles, Albums, Dolls, Trunks and Satchels, Telescopes--anything and everything you want, and at just half the price of other stores.

...THE STOVE YOU BUY...

Must be a good one. SUNSHINE STOVES AND RANGES are the best. A written guarantee with every one; over 75 different patterns, from $2.50 up. We sell you a heating or a cooking Stove 35 to 45 per cent. cheaper than you have been in the habit of paying; a man of lifelong hardware and stove experience in charge of the department--Mr. Adam Sanner; he sees personally to every Stove, to setting up all Stoves and looking after all details. The easiest way to be convinced of any matter is to come in personal contact with it; that's what we want you to do in THE LEADER'S case--come and see for yourself, get acquainted with facts; take nobody's word, get our prices, see our goods and you will know then how truthful every statement we have made is. We welcome you, buy or not as you please.
